Nominations Open for KCGM Community Reference Group

Kalgoorlie Consolidated Gold Mines (KCGM) is calling for members to join the Community Reference Group (CRG).

The CRG is a forum for KCGM to discuss its operations with community members, and as an avenue for them to provide feedback. The group discuss a wide range of topics including safety and environmental management, mine performance, community views and projects.

KCGM General Manager Russell Cole said the CRG was established 15 years ago and continues to provide valuable feedback.

“Our community is made up of people with a range of views and opinions. We want to ensure the CRG continues to provide feedback from across the community.”

“We encourage representatives of local businesses, community organisations and individuals to nominate,” he said.

The CRG meets at 12pm on the second Thursday of every month for 1 hour. If you would like to find out more about the CRG, visit the KCGM website, where member contact details are available.

The current CRG members, in consultation with KCGM, will consider all nominations.

Download a nomination form at www.superpit.com.au. Applications close on 9th February and appointed members will be notified by 20th February 2014.
